Dear friend of first responders,

Thank you for your continued support of these community servants through the Strength for Service ministry.

As a result of your generosity, we are able to rush free copies of Strength for Service to God and Community to firefighters and police officers following distressing events.

Over this past year, we have seen much turmoil and loss. From a global pandemic to natural disasters, our first responders have been there for us through it all and have fought tirelessly day after day to keep us safe. They are not only risking their lives, but are taking time away from their loved ones as they go to the frontlines to keep people they don't even know safe.

With International Firefighter's Day on May 4 and National Police week on May 9-15 approaching, now is the perfect opportunity to give back to these brave men and women. We hope that you will take this time to provide Strength for Service to God and Community books to your local fire house or police station. One case of books is priced at $350 and contains 52 books. Take advantage of this discounted price (44%) when you order before the April 1 deadline.

Bullet-proof vests and oxygen masks can protect police officers and fire fighters from gunfire and smoke, but neither can protect damaged spirits. A book with stories of men and women who found ways to cope with routine struggles and frightening confrontations may provide the spiritual protection that only you can provide.

If you are unable to purchase a case, please consider a gift to provide shipping costs for books provided by others. A response envelope is enclosed for your convenience.

During this 20th anniversary of Strength for Service, we are reaching out to our friends and donors to help us reach our goal. This gift to your community public servants will, in turn, help us reach our longer term goal of distributing 100,000 books as a part of our anniversary celebration during 2021. We thank you for your consideration in advance.

Gratefully yours,
